4. Maintenance of Records of transactions and Preservation of records

Maintenance of Records of transactions and Preservation of records with specific reference to the Reserve Bank of India guidelines and Master Circular dated July 1, 2015

4.1 Maintenance of Records of transactions

4.1.1 NBFCs should introduce a system of maintaining proper record of transactions prescribed under Rule 3 of Prevention of Money Laundering (Maintenance of Records) Rules, 2005 (PML Rules, 2005), as mentioned below:

- (i) all cash transactions of the value of more than rupees ten lakh or its equivalent in foreign currency;
- (ii) Series of all cash transactions individually valued below Rupees Ten Lakh, or its equivalent in foreign currency which have taken place within a month and the monthly aggregate which exceeds rupees ten lakhs or its equivalent in foreign currency. It is clarified that for determining 'integrally connected transactions' 'all accounts of the same customer' should be taken into account.
- (iii) all cash transactions where forged or counterfeit currency notes or bank notes have been used as genuine and where any forgery of a valuable security has taken place facilitating the transactions;
- (iv) all suspicious transactions whether or not made in cash and in manner as mentioned in the Rules framed by Government of India under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002.

NBFCs are required to adhere to the reporting requirements as per the amended rules.

4.1.2 NBFCs are required to maintain all necessary information in respect of transactions prescribed under PML Rule 3 so as to permit reconstruction of individual transaction, including the following information:

- (i) the nature of the transactions;
- (ii) the amount of the transaction and the currency in which it was denominated;
- (iii) the date on which the transaction was conducted and;
- (iv) the parties to the transaction.

5. Preservation of records

The company should take appropriate steps to evolve a system for proper maintenance and preservation of account information in a manner that allows data to be retrieved easily and quickly whenever required or when requested by the competent authorities.

- (i) In terms of PML Amendment Act 2012, the company should maintain for at least five years from the date of transaction between the company and the client, all necessary records of transactions, both domestic or international, if any which will permit reconstruction of individual transactions (including the amounts and types of currency involved, if any) so as to provide, if necessary, evidence for prosecution of persons involved in criminal activity.
- (ii) The company should ensure that records pertaining to the identification of the customers and their address (e.g. copies of documents like passports, identity cards, driving licenses, PAN card, utility bills, etc.) obtained while opening the account and during the course of business relationship, are properly preserved for at least five years after the business relationship is ended as required under Rule 10 of the Rules ibid. The identification of records and transaction data should be made available to the competent authorities upon request.

(iii) The company may maintain records of the identity of their clients, and records in respect of transactions referred to in Rule 3 in hard or soft format.

(iv) The company is required to pay special attention to all complex, unusual large transactions and all
